Video Conferencing Brings New Instructors to OLLI@UGA

By Chris Jones, OLLI President

You might have noticed the camera icon or a (V) beside a class in a recent OLLI catalog. It denotes that the class involves the use of video conferencing which has become a useful tool in assisting OLLI@UGA in offering more than 200 distinctive classes each semester

Web and video conferencing have been around for some time in the business world, but recent refinements and competition have lowered the cost and the technology is now an accepted way of connecting teachers with classrooms far away.

Peter Balsamo was the first OLLI Curriculum Committee member to pursue the concept in Fall 2018. "We are excited to connect our members with remote-located instructors whom we might not have been able to learn from otherwise," explains Balsamo. "This technology brings the instructor to us live and allows interactive two-way discussion for questions and answers."

The Spring semester video conference-classes were well-attended and member feedback was generally positive. "I learned much from this class

OLLI Website Gets a Makeover

By Tim Meehan, OLLI@UGA Executive Director

Over the past few months, OLLI@UGA has been working on a new website. The last website was designed in 2012 and was beginning to show its age. This site should go live at the beginning of July, so we strongly recommend everyone visit the site (at the same URL: oli.uga.edu) before registration to ensure that you know you are in the right place.

I know that the first question that you are probably asking is how this is going to affect registration in July. The answer is that the process you now follow should be exactly the

WELCOME TO USING YOUR SMARTS

Welcome to Wesley Woods of Athens.

What's great about retiring in a college town? Everything! Not only does the University of Georgia offer cultural and sports (Go Dawgs!) activities, you can take classes through the Osher Lifetime Learning Institutes (OLLI)—classes designed for mature adults and ranging from Mark Twain to American Folk Art, from Tai Chi to Criminal Justice Reform. Just one more smart reason to choose Wesley Woods of Athens.

WELCOME HOME.

Good Vibes All Around at Annual Meeting

By Susan Walker

Chuck Murphy

Speaker Betsy Bean, editor, BoomAthens magazine, an OLLI sponsor

“We’ve got a good thing going.” That could have been the theme for this year’s Annual Meeting and Volunteer Appreciation held on a sunny May day at the Garden Club of Georgia on the grounds of the State Botanical Garden of Georgia. OLLI@UGA members celebrated the excellent results of the past year and felt appreciated for all the things each member does to support the good thing we’ve got going. (The song quote applies whether you think of Stephen Sondheim’s musical Merrily We Roll Along or Michael Jackson’s Ben album.)

Overview by Executive Director Tim Meehan

Tim Meehan started off the business portion of the Annual Meeting by looking both backward and forward. He reported that more than 900 members took a class this semester and last, choosing from more than 200 classes each semester.

He was also happy to introduce two new OLLI@UGA staff members. Amanda Nix joined the staff in April as Program Services Coordinator to fill the spot left by Zu Reuter who took a new position in UGA’s College of Education after having been a pivotal staff member for eight years. Amanda will work closely with the Curriculum and Travel Study committees. And thanks to the OLLI@UGA Board having created a much-needed new staff position, Ryan Robinson began his new position as Member Services Coordinator in June. He will work with the Hospitality, Membership, and Marketing & Communications committees.

Looking forward, the board and staff will be interested to read members’ answers to the survey that was sent out in May and June to get a sense of how to plan new initiatives for the future of OLLI@UGA. “Currently, we are exploring expanding the times we offer classes to reach out to the younger side of our target audience,” he said. “We are also looking at expanding where we offer classes . . . to bring different communities together. As one member recently said to me, ‘Anything not to have to turn left out of River’s Crossing.’”

Other new offerings this summer include the free movies being shown at River’s Crossing for the Great Books Film series and a series of discussions being streamed by OLLI@Dartmouth, titled Critical Thinking for the Preservation of our Democracy.

Overview by President Monte Broaded

President Monte Broaded announced that OLLI@UGA had ended the year in the black, even with all the extra costs of the new technology introduced during the past fiscal year, including the Mighty Networks communication systems for members, which is now called OLLI@UGA Communications; the new registration system; and the new website that is in the working stages. He said that the Board has passed a balanced budget for the next fiscal year, which begins in July. “Staffing has been a big item for the organization this year,” said Monte, as he thanked Tim Meehan and Shelly Magruder, our office manager, for carrying the load when OLLI@UGA was short-staffed for about half a year.

“The most consequential thing we did was to make the decision to add another full-time staff member,” he said. “It was not taken lightly. We had become a victim of our own success. I kept hearing the word ‘burnout’ far more than you want to hear in a volunteer organization.”

Monte then found an interesting way to point out how our organization stays vital and interesting, thanks to the efforts of so many people who are members of OLLI@UGA. “OLLI is us, not them,” he said while asking members in the audience to stand up as he mentioned all the different jobs our volunteers help with: first, board members; second, committee chairs; third, committee members; fourth, shared interest group coordinators; fifth, all those who have taught a class; and, sixth, all those who have attended a class or an event. At that point, everybody in the room was standing and cheering.

Report by Treasurer Mamie Mierzwak

Next, Mamie Mierzwak gave her financial report: “We’re in good shape financially,” she said. The budget for fiscal year 2020 is $437,000. Income for our membership organization comes from class registration, travel-study trips, luncheons (44%); the Osher Foundation endowment (25%); membership fees (21%); and miscellaneous sources (10%). We spend our income on such things as salary and benefits for our staff, technology services, administrative fees, and mailing our course catalog and OLLI Times.

Preview by President-Elect Chris Jones

Last up was incoming president, Chris Jones. He commented that great groundwork had been laid for the upcoming year when OLLI@UGA will celebrate 25 years since it started as Learning in Retirement and 10 years since becoming an Osher Lifelong Learning Institute organization and taking on its current name. In addition to the anniversaries we will be celebrating, Chris also pointed out that we are now in the last year of our long-range plan and will be creating a new one. He and the Board also plan to look at our partnerships and to do more outreach in our local community. “We are 25 years young,” he said. “Let’s have a great year!”

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Looking Back and Moving Forward

By almost any measure, OLLI@UGA has had a great year:

- Our membership has continued to grow at a solid, sustainable pace.
- Through the amazing efforts of the Curriculum Committee we have offered a record number of courses and have enjoyed the highest number of course enrollments in OLLI's history.
- The Travel/Study committee has organized a rich array of local, regional, national and international study programs that have been enthusiastically received.
- The luncheon speakers program has attracted very high levels of attendance.
- The special events and social activities organized by the Hospitality Committee have been greatly appreciated by participants.
- Our many Shared Interest Groups offer a wide range of opportunities for learning, socializing, and just doing cool stuff.
- We are in very good shape financially and expect to finish the fiscal year with a modest budget surplus.
- At its April meeting, the Board of Directors passed a balanced budget for FY20.

Monte Broaded

All of these great things did not "just happen". They are the result of a great deal of creativity, talent, and hard work -- by those who volunteer in multiple ways; by the 1,400-plus members who participate actively in courses, events, and SIGs; and by the dedicated and highly competent work of our paid staff members. Approximately a bajillion thanks are due all around OLLI@UGA. So, Thank You (one bajillion times)!

Our organization has also faced some challenges and transitions this year:

- We adopted a new computer system to manage registrations for courses, events, and membership.
- We adopted a new social media program, Mighty Networks, to facilitate our communications with each other. It has already proven itself to be highly useful.
- We experienced significant staffing changes. After eight years with OLLI@UGA, Zu Reuter moved to a new position in the College of Education. We appreciate greatly all of her contributions to OLLI and wish her much success. Tim Meehan and Shelly Magruder carried a very heavy workload during the staffing transition, and we thank them.
- The Board of Directors this year authorized and funded a new full-time staff position in order to better support our continually expanding range and volume of activities and to allow for some realignment of responsibilities. We are pleased to welcome Amanda Nix as Program Services Coordinator and Ryan Robinson as Member Services Coordinator.

In the 2019-20 cycle, OLLI@UGA will celebrate its 10th anniversary as an Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, and 25th anniversary of our founding as Learning in Retirement. We have come a long way in 25 years. This is a good time to reflect on our accomplishments and to look ahead to our ongoing development. OLLI@UGA is truly a member-driven organization. It is now, and will be in the future, what we make it through our collective efforts. I can see lots of people figuratively rolling up their sleeves right now!

Carol J. Fischer Awards Plus One

Each year at the Annual Meeting and Volunteer Appreciation in May, our outgoing president gives out three awards to outstanding volunteers in honor of Carol J. Fischer who was one of the early members of Living in Retirement and volunteer extraordinaire.

This year, President Monte Broadend presented the three awards as well as a special Presidential Award to thank these four OLLI@UGA members for their excellent work and volunteer service:

Carol J. Fischer Awards for Long and Significant Service to OLLI@UGA

Sandy Clark – As a committee member, chairperson, and constant presence on social media, Sandy has been an all-around super volunteer. “Sandy is indefatigable. She’s a force,” said Monte as he thanked her for all of the help she gives to OLLI@UGA.

Bill Alworth – As a board member of the original Living in Retirement (LIR) organization that first brought lifelong learning to Athens, Bill voted to have LIR go with the Osher Foundation to become OLLI@UGA. He has seen it all and helped grow OLLI@UGA from the beginning.

Joan Zitzelman – As chairman of the Travel Study Committee, Joan has helped to bring a wealth of enriching trips to the membership. Over the years, she has broadened the scope of the committee to take on many cultural and educational trips within our state and nation as well as overseas.

Special Presidential Award

Cher Snyder – Monte said that this year he needed to give out one ad hoc award to thank Cher Snyder for all the hours of effort she has devoted to helping members learn how to use our new communications system, which began as Mighty Networks and is now called OLLI@UGA Communications. “She has pulled us into the Mighty Networks world,” he said. On a side note, Cher was also elected President-Elect of OLLI@UGA to serve with President Chris Jones.

Hospitality Committee Update: Your Hospitality Committee planned the successful Spring Beerganza on April 11 and coordinated the planning and production of the annual meeting on May 17. We were pleased with the participation at both events and hope that everyone who attended had an enjoyable time. A huge thank you to Talmage Terrace for furnishing the delicious hors d’oeuvres for the meeting and to speaker Betsy Bean, editor of BoomAthens magazine. It’s always a fun time being with OLLI members!

So what is coming up? Mark your calendars!

Lifelong Learning Fair, Friday, August 9, 1:00 – 3:00 pm, Georgia Square Mall: This event provides a wonderful opportunity for members and perspective members to talk with representatives from our committees and Shared Interest Groups, board members, and sponsors about everything OLLI has to offer.

Membership Picnic, Thursday, September 26, Noon – 2:00 pm, Flinchum’s Phoenix: Come and join in the fun and fellowship as we kick off our own academic year at OLLI. It’s a perfect rustic venue with air conditioning.

In other Hospitality Committee news, we would like to welcome Pam Bechill and Don Scheider to our group. You are welcome to join the committee. We meet the second Monday each month on the fourth floor of Talmadge Terrace from 10:00am to 11:30am. Those who have time go out for lunch afterwards.

Email Sue Flemming at flemmism@ptd.net for information or sign up via OLLI Communications.

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

We always live in two worlds, like Janus, the Roman god of the New Year. He is always depicted as having two faces, one looking back and one looking forwards.

Tim Meehan

We look back on a year of great changes, losing Zu, changing registration and communication systems (and all of the associated growing pains with such), welcoming on board Amanda and finally Ryan. We have had spectacular trips to the Biltmore Estate and to Washington DC, a new social event with a membership picnic, and close on 500 classes over the two semesters.

None of these things could happen without the organization working together and thanks must go to the board and committees for all of their hard work and support through this year. We are also grateful for the support of the College of Education, and especially Dean Denise Spangler. We are moving forward with renewing the MoA between UGA and LiR which strengthens the relationship between us and UGA.

Looking forward, we have a lot of great trips planned, both day trips and overnight to all parts of the region including Columbus and Savannah, GA. We have a repeat of our Membership Picnic in September and a special event in May to celebrate our 10th anniversary as an OLLI and 25 years of Learning in Retirement in Athens.

It is a tribute to the members that the organization has been sustained for this long. It is thanks to people's generosity, both in terms of talents, time, and money, that we can be in such a wonderful position today. As we move forward, consider what role OLLI has played in your life and how you can sustain it for the next 10 or 25 years.

If you would like to volunteer to join any of our committees, please contact the office and we will put you in touch with the relevant people (or you can join through the Communications system and 'request to join'). Whether you can give three hours, or thirty, your efforts will make this organization better for everyone. This organization could not function without the countless hours that all of our volunteers put in and know that you are all very much appreciated.

Explore Some of the Best Books of the Year with Book Discussion SIG

By Cheryl Copeland, the Book Discussion SIG coordinator

The Book Discussion Shared Interest Group is a convivial group of book lovers. Meeting monthly on the second Thursday of each month in the fourth floor Multi-Purpose Room of Talmage Terrace/Lanier Gardens, we read and discuss books all of us have selected. For any given meeting, we are just the right size, so that everyone can join in the discussion. We bring our own experiences and knowledge to highlight different parts and characters of each book, resulting in illuminating points of view that any one individual may not have recognized. Most of the time, the books selected are best books of the year in their genre, as well as best sellers.

Are you into mysteries? The group reads some, but expand your horizons with other genres. Geography is no barrier. Yes, Southern classics, Canadian mysteries, Appalachian stories, European stories set during World War II have all been read. The books can include all kinds of fiction, mysteries/thrillers, science fiction, historical novels, westerns, non-fiction, memoirs, war stories, sports sagas, scientific exposes, biographies, and autobiographies.

Pictured are members of the Book Discussion SIG at the June 13th meeting at Talmage Terrace/Lanier Gardens. The poster represents many of the books read by the group.

New Shared Interest Groups (SIGs) Proposed

by Cher Snyder, OLLI@UGA President-Elect

Based on the popular response to his Spring Semester classes, Alan Black is proposing to create two new SIGs: "Cartooning for Fun" and "Sharing through Storytelling." Monthly meetings will be held at a time and place to be arranged at the first meeting of these groups in August (if they make).

Cartooning for Fun

Members will learn and share ideas about turning drawings, sketches, or doodles into fun cartoons as a hobby or to share with their grandchildren.

Sharing through Storytelling

Sharing our stories can continually enrich all of our lives and strengthen ties with friends and family. Members will be encouraged to develop skills as better-to-great story creators and tellers.

Creating a new SIG requires that at least five people share the interest upon which the SIG is to be based. If you are interested, contact Cher Snyder on OLLI Communications.

Our Spring Journey to Capture the Splendor of the North Georgia Piedmont

by Art Crawley, OLLI Garden Enthusiasts Coordinator

The OLLI Garden Enthusiasts SIG enjoyed a fruitful spring journeying to gardens both public and private and delighting in the splendor of spring in the North Georgia Piedmont. Early spring we enjoyed both the Piedmont Gardeners' Tour of Athens Gardens and the Oconee Garden Tour. These annual tours offer rare access to private gardens to see how other garden enthusiasts like ourselves create and grow their personal backyard paradises. On the Oconee tour one of OLLI's own garden enthusiasts, Vicki Krugman, and her garden was featured.

Touring commercial nurseries, organic farms, and botanical gardens have been an additional endeavor throughout our journey to ever better gardens and gardening. In mid-May ten of us traveled to the new Atlanta Botanical Garden affiliated Gainesville Garden. The Gainesville Garden offers eye-catching displays within a vast piedmont landscape. Its new topiary exhibit delights young and old alike.

We ended our spring garden journey by welcoming in summer at Eileen

The OLLI Garden Enthusiasts SIG was co-founded early on by Carolyn Abney and Art Crawley to promote organic home vegetable gardening in our difficult north Georgia clay soils while sharing information and practical experience in cultivating vegetables at first, but later expanding our interests in all things green. When not journeying to private and public gardens and nurseries and the like, we gather on the third Tuesday of the month from 2:30 to 4:00 p m at the State Botanical Garden of Georgia (SBG) here in Athens.

so it was very worthwhile for me,” one registrant noted of Dr. Brian Carpenter’s presentation on medical aid in dying. “This was one of the best classes that I have taken at OLLI. The presenter made excellent use of the video format,” reported a participant in Mike Murphy’s class about William Shakespeare (which was hosted by his brother here in Athens, OLLI member Chuck Murphy).

OLLI members will get a chance to experience the new approach this summer through the acclaimed Dartmouth Summer Lecture Series. Titled “Critical Thinking for the Preservation of Our Democracy,” the series of six video-conferences feature well-known subject matter experts on timely current events topics. More information can be found on the OLLI Web site.

Fall semester classes already slated include Steven Yale Loehr from Cornell University Law School about immigration law; Dr Christine Sanderson from Amherst College about the “science of happiness;” and Brent Green, author and consultant regarding his recent book about the tumultuous events of 1969.

Tim Meehan, OLLI’s executive director, said he expects there will continue to be use of video conferencing for some classes. “We are actively looking into opportunities for piloting some classes in remote locations to better serve our community.”

The redesigned Web site will allow great ease of use by both visitors and members.

What we hoped to achieve is a website based on current best practice, being cleaner and more attractive to potential members, easily showing the full range of our programming, our SIGs, and our social events. There are added sections on who we are and highlighting the benefits of becoming a member.

The design used was based on templates provided for us by the designer at the Terry College of Business, and the new site is hosted by the EITS – the IT department at the University, using the OmniUpdate system that the university uses. The board made this decision to go with the UGA system so that we can keep abreast of any changes that the University makes.

We would like to thank Patricia Dixen, Ann Allen, and Amy Munnell for their hard work
